ELECTORS RETURN ALL INCUMBENTS TO OFFICE FOR ANOTHER TERM

Results Show Popularity of Officials Who Are Now Serving People In Public Office of District

The election passed off quietly last Tuesday and resulted in the return to office of all the incumbents. Senator John, incumbent state senator from this district, failed to get a majority in this county but secured a vote in Santa Cruz county which more than made up what he lost here. The district is composed of three counties, San Mateo, Santa Cruz and San Benito. In the latter county, Johnson also lost by a narrow margin, but the vote over the whole was sufficient to reelect him.

The principal fight in this section was that of the supervisors, there being three running for supervisor of the Third township. The results of the vote in this township were as follows:

Supervisors contested were also the chief theme of speculation in the First and Fourth townships. In the First, Thomas L. Hickey was reelected by a substantial majority over his opponent, J. J. Fahy, the vote being 2395 for the former and 1497 for the latter.

In the Fourth township the incumbent, Manuel Francis also defeated his opponent, Charles Cavalli by a large majority.

Extension of the fire district, which at present is comprised by the portion of Broadway east of the railroad and the northern portion of Main street, to embrace the entire length of the county road through Redwood City, was considered at the meeting of the board of trustees last Monday evening.

The matter was brought to the attention of the measure, not by Ryan who urged a protection against fire hazards, but as a restrictive measure against the increase of the hog sheds and similar shanties which are breaking out like a rash along the highways of the state.

Under the plan considered by the board, the buildings have class "B" fire-proof walls, be at least four feet high and be constructed of masonry or concrete.

The board regarded the property along the highway as essentially business property, and felt that the fire district should be extended to embrace this territory.

Contract Let For Highway Culvert

A contract was let last Saturday by the board of trustees of the Sequoia Union High School for the building of a culvert across the state highway. The contract was awarded to Ed. Dearborn for $2,636.94.

The new culvert was necessitated by the changing of the drainage ditch which carries off the storm waters of the high school grounds and of much of the land in the rear of the tract. The ditch formerly crossed the highway near the middle of what was formerly called the Talbot property, and divided a field which it was desired to use as a football field for the high school. The old ditch was, therefore, filled up and a new one dug near the James street line of the high school grounds.

BIG DEVELOPMENT FOR SAN CARLOS

Marking one of the most radical developments ever attempted by realty interests on the peninsula, actual operations in the subdivision of the old Phelps estate at San Carlos, into what is now called the Devonshire tract began this week by the Municipal Properties Company of San Francisco, recent purchasers of the tract.

The new tract comprises over 14,000 acres of the finest land on the peninsula, and is situated along both sides of the Alameda de las Pulgas. The land formerly formed the major portion of the property of the late Timothy Guy Phelps and extends from Reed's school to the British tract toward Redwood City.

The development of the tract as at present contemplated will include subdivision into large tracts suitable for large estates such as those which have made Hillsborough famous. Curbs, gutters, macadam roads and facilities for gas, water and electricity are included in the present plans.

Recreation grounds are to be included in the proposed development and include an 18-hole golf course, tennis courts, swimming pool, etc. Elaborate gates have been designed and will be erected at the entrance of the tract.

The main entrance to the new tract will be the Alameda de las Pulgas, which will be widened and paved. Both sides of this street will be laid out in parks, and ornamental concrete bridges will be built across the creek at several points to accommodate the portion of the property which lies on the southern side of the creek.

The laying out of the tract has been placed in the hands of City Engineer Dimmitt of Redwood City and the surveyors from his office are now taking measurements. Several men have been added to the regular force in order to rush this work to completion, as the actual operations of building are to be started immediately. It is understood that the Municipal Properties Company has filed a bond this week covering the cost of the improvements, and assuring completion.

In selling the land the owners plan to make all sales subject to building restrictions, and plan to make the tract one of the exclusive districts of the peninsula. It is thought that it will become the creek at the eastern extremity, where the retired eastern capitalists who desire to spend their remaining years in the salubrious climate of the peninsula. The property will be sold as soon after the improvements can be gotten under way as possible.

As at present planned the improvements to be made in the subdivision will total an expenditure of approximately $1,400,000. Contracts so far let are said to total about $1,000,000.

SHIP HAS CHECKERED CAREER

The old ship which has been serving as a bunk house for the workers at the new cement plant here, has had an interesting history. The following story of the old boat appeared in the San Mateo News:

Leader this innocent ship can close her career under a cloud of disgrace if she allows herself to fall into the hands of evil-doers.

"This is proved in the sad plight of a nameless ferryboat that is now lying in the mud in the bay near Redwood City.

"Once a trim and tidy passenger steamer plowing its way proudly through the waters of San Francisco bay, making regular trips between the metropolis and Sacramento, the vessel later became a naval training ship for Uncle Sam. Up to this point, the ship's career was spotless. Then the 'flapper' spirit swept over the boat and she allowed herself to be used as a jazz cafe in the waters of Pacific City. The Three Cities' open air pleasure resort. Following an unsuccessful season in that capacity, she went as a bank ship to the Pacific Portland Cement docks at Redwood City.

"All was well with the rover until bootleggers got her and made her a rendezvous for their unlawful activities. United States federal officers learned of the ship's use, pounced down upon her and now she is a down-and-outer for good, having been closed by a federal injunction.

"Barred from the protection of human hands, the nameless derelict will soon rot and crumble to pieces under the heartless hammering of the elements.

In the Washington school Mrs. Ida Corwin is principal as before and has the following assistants: Claire Foley, Anna Sarafield and Mary Nicholson. The enrollment here so far has been 121.

Ten teachers will teach in the central school this term in addition to Principal A. E. Monteith, who is also city superintendent of schools. These are Adelaide Butts, Gertrude Frazer, Mrs. Cecelia Graves, Elita Kelling, Mrs. Anna I. Mantz, Edna Rowe, Lauretta Williams, Louetta Mallard, Rosamond Boulevard, and Margaret Byrkit.

Several of the new additions to the teaching staff of the city hold high school certificates and are college graduates. Miss Simonsen is a graduate of Stanford and Miss Smith is an A. The groom is a graduate of the Sequoia Union High school and for several years has been engaged in Young's drug store here. He is one of the most popular of the young men of Menlo Park, and friends both here and there join in wishing him happiness in his new venture.

Miss Smith is a recent arrival in Burlingame, having recently come to this state from Salt Lake City, Utah. She is an extremely pretty girl and has made many friends in the time she has lived here.

INFANT DIES IN HOSPITAL

Angelo Bragoni, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Bragoni, passed away in the community hospital last Thursday after a long illness. The parents of the child are residents of the "Sweetness of True Friendship." The funeral will be at 2 o'clock today in Holy Cross cemetery in Menlo Park. The funeral will take place in parlors of the Tinsley and Layne undertaking company here.

Plaintiff Gets $10,000 Verdict

A jury in the court of Superior Judge Buck last Wednesday brought in a judgment for Mrs. Mary A. Mullen of San Mateo for $10,000 against A. Tenant, proprietor of the Red Line Taxi of Burlingame. The suit was the result of the death of the plaintiff's husband who was run down and killed by one of Tenant's taxis in November of 1921. Suit was originally for $50,000 but the judgment calls for $10,000 damages to be paid by the defendant. The jury in the case were: John Wisnom, foreman; Howard B. Woodward, John D. Daly, Rose H. Woodard, Ethel D. McElwain, Ida L. Van Winkle, Anna Callaghan, Adelia Vannier, Theresa A. Moore and Catherine Bain.

Building operations were begun last Tuesday on the construction of a large block of business houses for Daniel R. Stafford on his property at the corner of Broadway and the highway. L. N. Pollard has the contract for the construction work and has a large crew of men now at work upon the project. The foundation is at present being laid by R. C. Johnston.

When completed the buildings will form one of the finest business corners in town, and the erection of these stores on the west side of the highway shows the marked trend of business in that direction, which has been going on for some time.

Mr. Stafford has always had faith in the business possibilities of this section of Redwood City and has secured several good business locations upon which he intends eventually to build other business buildings. He recently erected a modern two-story building on the corner of Broadway and Winslow streets, a portion of which he occupies.

Another indication of the growth of the business district is had in the opening of the Perry subdivision which is now under way. Preparations are now being made for the building of a 25-foot driveway along the front of the lots facing the highway in this subdivision, and the fire hydrant and electric lines have been removed by the city to make the construction of this driveway possible.

When completed this will allow ample parking space in front of the stores which are to be built along this highway.

Work is progressing rapidly on the business building of Maurice Sarafield which is in the Perry subdivision and directly across the highway from the Stafford buildings now under construction.

LOCAL WOMAN CLUB TO CELEBRATE THEIR FREEDOM FROM DEBT

The burning of the mortgage which for many years has hung over the clubhouse of the Redwood City's Women's Club will be celebrated at a reception and musical to be held at the clubhouse on September 4. This meeting will mark the opening of the club season for the local organization after the vacation period.

Prior to the reception there will be a director's meeting which will take place at 1 o'clock. At 3 p. m. the musical will begin. Music will be furnished by a troupe of Hawaiian musicians. At 3:30 Mrs. E. J. Wales, president of the San Francisco district of women clubs, will address the meeting and will be followed by Vice-principal John Gill of the Sequoia Union High School, who will present a flag to the club. Mrs. Harry Laughlin will then address the club after which Mrs. H. C. Pinkler will burn the mortgage.

Refreshments and a social hour will fill out the afternoon. Invitations have been sent out this week by Mrs. Abigail Laughlin, president of the club.

SEE MUD CREEK GLACIER
ON VACATION TRIP

Fred Siemens, real estate salesman for E. W. Magruder and Bonnie Magruder visited all the points of interest in the northern Sierra region during their vacation from which they returned this week. Siemens is a member of the Sierra Club and is familiar with the country through which they traveled, and was able to give his boy companion many tips on mountaineering.

Siemens took and brought back with him the first picture of the Mud Creek glacier which by its rapid melting this year has caused floods and washouts along the course of the McCloud creek into which it flows. The lack of snow in the upper canons of Mt. Shasta caused the glacier to melt with unprecedented rapidity and the drainage from the glacier is said to have raised the level of the Sacramento river four inches. One of Siemens' pictures shows an automobile buried in mud caused by the floods and avalanches. Both Siemens and young Magruder report having had one of the best vacations they have ever experienced.

Miss Ethel Swain, formerly connected with Sequoia Union High School but now a lecturer for the Extension Division of the University of California, was a Redwood City visitor, Wednesday.

THOUSANDS VIEW THE OPENING OF $2,000,000.00 PLANT HERE

Opening Day of Redwood's Cement Plant Attracts Visitors From All Parts of California

Sunday was the opening day of the $2,000,000 cement plant just completed on the waterfront here, and thousands of persons took advantage of the invitation of the company to view the new factory and see cement being made.

The entire plant was thrown open for inspection, and every step in the manufacture of cement from shell was explained by officials of the company who guided the visitors from one step in the manufacture to another.

The new plant depends for its raw materials entirely upon the bay which surrounds it on three sides. Oyster shells dredged from the bay floor and bottom mud brought up by dredgers are practically all that is needed for the best grade of cement. The shells and mud are mixed together in the correct proportion and then ground to a fine paste in water. This paste is constantly agitated by compressed air and is pumped into long horizontal kilns which are very slightly inclined.

In the kilns the paste is dried, then heated and finally burned to a clinker. The clinker drops from the end of the kiln into smaller steel cylinders where it is cooled and then is conveyed to the clinker storage pile by an automatic conveyor.

One of the great problems of the cement industry is the elimination of dust. Most of the dust comes from the stacks of the kilns. Aside from ethical reasons for keeping it down there are economic reasons for conserving energy. It is a product of considerable value in the course of a year. In the plant here dust chambers have been installed for catching all dust from the kilns. This is a new feature in cement manufacturing and this is the first factory to have them installed.

The construction of the Pacific Portland Cement Company, Consolidated, plant at Redwood City, is a landmark for all time to come the future of Redwood City as an industrial section of great magnitude. The plant will use both rail and water transportation and plans have been made to deepen the channel of Redwood City and San Bruno Bay to make it possible for ocean going steamers to make Redwood City as a port of call.

Continuing President Henderson announced: "The policy of the company, in so far as possible will be to employ married men with families who will make their homes in Redwood City and thus aid in the building up of the community in which our operations are carried on."

The opening of the plant here has been called the beginning of an era of unprecedented industrial development for Redwood City. Several other industries are seeking locations here on the strength of the cement works. One manufacturer of cement blocks is definitely decided to locate somewhere near the new plant. In speaking of the future of Redwood City, the Times of San Mateo has this to say:

"The construction of the Pacific Portland Cement Company, Consolidated, plant at Redwood City, is a landmark for all time to come the future of Redwood City as an industrial section of great magnitude. The plant will use both rail and water transportation and plans have been made to deepen the channel of Redwood City and San Bruno Bay to make it possible for ocean going steamers to make Redwood City as a port of call."

FOUR ARRESTED FOR PENINSULA HOLDUPS

The sheriff's office and the police of the peninsula have been able to round up four accused bandits this week thought to be responsible for the many holdups which have been occurring along the peninsula lately.

The first of the gang to be arrested was Marchese Conforti of South San Francisco, who was arrested when he attempted to hold up the Ingelow garage in the north end of the county. Conforti was lodged in jail and gave testimony which incriminated Dick Pescetti and Eugene Fafford, both of San Francisco. Later Chis Hodgins, also of San Francisco, was incriminated by testimony from the three arrested men, and he was arrested.

The bandits now in jail have been identified as those who held up Fred Jordan of this city on the highway near San Carlos last week. They have confessed to some holdups, but have so far denied any complicity in the holdups along the Middlefield road south of Redwood City recently of which they are also suspected.

The bandit who was shot when he attempted to rob the Sunshine garage last week and who is now recovering in the city, apparently has no connection with this gang.

ELECTRICAL CONTRACT
LET FOR BUILDING

A. W. Grimmstein, local electrical contractor and dealer, has been awarded the contract for the wiring the new two-story building of the San-Mateo County Building and Loan Association to be built on Broadway. The building will have the latest in electrical equipment and will be entirely fire-proof.

A. Payne of this city has the general contract for the building.

FORMER REDWOOD CITY MAN
DIES IN WOODLANDS

Word was received here this week of the death in Woodlands of William Hulings, a former resident of this city. Hulings many years ago was one of the principal horsehoes of this part of the country. At that time—Stanford was noted for horses and Hulings was employed as a horsehoer at the Stanford farm.

The deceased was in town about two months ago visiting his friends here whom he had not seen for many years.

THE QUALITY OF MERCY

THE first of this week an old man in Chicago made a wonderful plea for mercy for two boys who had committed a most revolting murder. He knew that the state would demand two lives for the one that had been snuffed out. He knew that a large number of people would look to the judge, who holds the lives of these two boys in his hands, to impose a death sentence. This old man who has faced many a court, and had made many a plea, made the supreme effort of his life. He did not attempt to minimize the crime he simply tried to point out what Christ would have done had He been the judge. He did not ask for mercy. He asked that the two boys be put away for the rest of their natural lives that they might have a chance to repent of their sins.

As we have said many times in these columns, we do not believe in capital punishment. It simply ends the thing. The warden of Sing Sing prison, who visited San Quentin this week said that hanging was too easy; it was over too soon and punished the family and not the offender. He was right.

Then comes the contention that a man sentenced for life is generally pardoned. To this we would say, that any man who has been punished and has truly repented of his sins, should be pardoned. The Master of all of our destinies tried to teach that one who has sinned and has repented should be pardoned.

We hope that the Chicago judge will not impose the extreme penalty that the prosecuting attorneys ask for. It is a singular thing that prosecuting attorneys are wont to demand a death sentence. We ask for. It is a singular thing that prosecuting attorney who does not bend all of his energies to this end when he is doing his duty before the local court. We hope that as time goes on, a new line of reasoning will be adopted and that the punishment will be imprisonment, will be deterrent so that a man may have time as the years come and go, to think over his deeds and perhaps get a different viewpoint of life before he is called upon to go before the great judgment seat for his final sentence.

TOLL OF CARELESSNESS

FIGURES recently compiled by the state of Oregon show that 93 per cent of the automobile wrecks are caused by carelessness. Of 9,131 accidents reported from January to June 30, last, 5,457 are charged entirely to carelessness. Added to these may be included the following: Speeding, 133; failure to give right of way, 1381; reckless driving, 260; cutting corners, 372; double at intersections, 155; driving while intoxicated, 123; failure to give signal, 290; driving on left side of street or highway, 64; improper parking, 79; reverse direction in middle of block, 40; passing to left of street cars while discharging passengers, 31; inexperience, 24; jockeying on bridges, 21—a total of 8,480 accidents, which might have been avoided, according to the report of the secretary of state, had the drivers been careful. Only 140 accidents were caused by wet or slippery pavements. It is probable that these Oregon figures would be a fair average for other states.

It is probable that the tendency of too many automobile drivers to "let the insurance company pay the bill" is responsible for many avoidable accidents. Let drivers remember that no insurance policy has yet been devised which will return the life of a person killed through an automobile driver's carelessness. Safety to life and property rest almost wholly in the hands of the automobile driver.

MAIL IN THE COURT HOUSE

THIS week while walking through the corridor of the County Court House a man asked where the mail box was located. We informed him that there was no mail box in the building. To this he remarked: "Well, this is a funny court house." We had never thought about the matter before but as we revolve his utterance in our minds we do feel that a mail box would be in place at the Court House. The officials would make a good use of it. Attorneys or property owners who are sending deeds would probably like to have the mail box handy.

Perhaps this matter has never been brought to the attention of the postal authorities. Perhaps the county authorities do not want the mail box in the building, but never-the-less we do not like the idea of giving any one the chance to call our beautiful county building a "funny court house."

RADIO CENTRAL

ON the north shore of Long Island, the Radio Corporation of America has constructed a Radio Central—a super-power radio system that simultaneously can send and receive messages from the great nations of the world across the ocean. This giant radio, with its steel towers covering more than ten square miles of land, has made the United States the focal point of the world in the transmission and reception of wireless intelligence. It stands as a monument to American achievement, the greatest milestone in the progress of radio across the oceans.

PROSPEROUS REDWOOD CITY

Redwood City is now in the first stages of what bids fair to be an unprecedented era of prosperity. New enterprises here, new people moving into town and Redwood City has the reputation of being one of the fastest growing towns in the state at the present time. We have every advantage. All we need is to let the world know at advantages we have here, and the growth is sure to follow.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

From the Times-Gazette of September 2, 1899

An automobile passed through town Thursday morning causing many to "rubberneck" at the wonderful invention which is destined to take the place of the horse.

Professor David Curry has decided to take a new departure, and will engage in the excursion business. He is perfecting plans for an excursion to the Hawaiian Islands.

Among the graduates of the Sequoia Union High School who will enter Stanford next year are James Hedge, Hjalmar Holmquist, Stanley Smith and Hall Ross. The entrance examinations of the university will take place on Monday and the classes will form on Friday.

Attorney Clute of San Francisco, but formerly of Amador county, is on a brief visit with his brother, Bert.

The supervisors met at Byrne's store Wednesday to view the route of the proposed road between Halfmoon Bay and San Mateo.

Hall Ross and his tandem are attracting great attention. The horses are so frisky that he has to have Ben Young on the seat with him to balance the cart and five or six others are required to hold onto the lines.

When the news reached here Wednesday evening that the transportation having on the board the returning California volunteers had been sighted there was a great deal of commotion in town. Fire bells were rung, whistles were blown lustily, and for a time it looked as if hell had been turned loose. A bon fire was started on Main street, the small boys feeding the flames with all the barrels and boxes that could be secured for three blocks around.

ANOTHER ROMANCE IN REAL LIFE IN REDWOOD

Another romance in real life had its culmination at Burlingame, Monday, August 18th, when John W. Dean of Redwood City and Miss Catherine Gnanocca of Halfmoon Bay were united in marriage.

Immediately following the ceremony and wedding breakfast, the happy couple started on an auto honeymoon trip which covered a considerable portion of the northern part of the state. They returned to Redwood City a few days ago and are now settled in a real life in a nice little bungalow.

The groom is employed by the Standard Oil Co. and has been stationed here for nearly a year. Some few weeks ago he was sent over to Halfmoon Bay to take charge of the company's business at that place and while there met his fate, which in this case, happened to be one of the most charming young ladies of that section. It was a case of mutual love at first sight—just like we see in the movies and read of in books, and let us hope it will have the same happy ending.

For some years the groom wore one of Uncle Sam's uniforms and was in the naval service. Since his discharge he has been employed by the Standard Oil Company.

WOMAN SUES DENTIST FOR $20,000 DAMAGES

Suit for $20,000 damages was filed in the Superior court here this week by Mrs. Josephine Merita of South San Francisco against Dr. C. M. Decker, a dentist of the same city.

In her complaint, Mrs. Merita, through her attorneys, Julio Parodi and Angelo Scamporrino, charges the dentist with forcibly removing a set of false teeth, with causing her physical injury, which required the services of a physician.

The plaintiff asks $15,000 damages for the injuries said to have been received and $5,000 exemplary damages. The alleged attack occurred on June 19 last according to the complaint.

"Who's in that henhouse" shouted the irate owner, as, hearing a noise in the night, he rushed out and aimed a shotgun at the door. "Speak or I'll shoot!"

"Ain't nobody in here," responded a faint and trembling voice from the inside. "Ain't nobody, sah, 'ceptin' just chickens!"—Boston Transcript.

ONLY FOUR YEARS OLD, BUT A VETERAN ACTRESS

That is little Dawn O'Day who has more than a year in pictures to her credit and has the important part of Dot in "The Man Who Fights Alone."

This screen play is the first starring vehicle for William Farnum under the Paramount banner. It was produced by Wallace Worley.

Although it has made Farnum famous, it is unique in its artistry, according to Director Worley, and in the unexpected psychological twists in the drama. The action calls for the presence of a little girl like Dawn O'Day and her part in the play is heavy one for her tender years. Around her revolves the entire theme of the plot. She appeared recently as the little prince of Spain in the "Spanish Dancer."

"The Man Who Fights Alone," with Lois Wilson and Edward Horton featured in support of the star, is coming to the Sequoia Theatre on Sunday, August 31.

"THE ENEMY SEX," A JAMES CRUZE PRODUCTION, COMING

There are several reasons why "The Enemy Sex" which is coming to the Sequoia Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 3 and 4 is awaited with more than ordinary interest. First of all, it was produced for Paramount by James Cruze, who, you recall,

"The Covered Wagon." This fact in itself, is a guarantee of its worth from a directorial standpoint. Secondly, the cast, headed by irresistible Betty Compson, is nothing short of all-star, since it includes such well-known favorites as Percy Marmont, Huntley Gordon, Kathleen Williams, Sheldon Lewis and De Witt Jennings.

Coming to the story we learn that the picture was adapted by Walter Woods and Harvey Thew from Owen Johnson's "The Salamander," the most startling of all the flapper, jazz novels. It's a romance dealing with the love adventures of a chorus girl who makes a laughing stock of five wealthy, sophisticated men, each of whom tries to add her to his collection of women. Imagine Betty Compson as the fascinating chorus girl, the wise little gold-digger who plays with the five biggest men in New York and beats them all at her own game.

Interest in this picture is further heightened by reason of the fact that James Cruze and Betty Compson are head over heels in love with each other, and are to be married shortly. It is safe to assume that both redoubled their efforts to make "The Enemy Sex" notable. Bearing this in mind, we are willing to wager that this latest James Cruze production will be one of the exceptional photoplays of the coming season.

LOCKE'S "THE MOUNTBANK" SCREENED BY PARAMOUNT

Film fans will be more than interested in the announcement that the Herbert Brenon Paramount production of "The Side Show of Life" is coming to the Sequoia Theatre next Friday, September 5.

The picture is an adaptation of William J. Locke's justly famous novel, "The Mountbanks," and Ernest Torrence, featured with Anna Q. Nilsson in the production, has the principal role.

Having a reputation for truth we cannot truthfully say that when William J. Locke wrote his famous novel "The Mountbanks," from which the screenplay was adapted, he had Torrence in mind for the title role, but it's dollars to doughnuts that he could not have written a part more suited to Torrence's talent and temperament if he had! The story of the clown who joins the army as a private during the war, rises to the rank of brigadier-general and finds himself at demobilization in love with a titled English woman, but after all, just a clown—can you just picture him?

WISE JOHNNY

School ma'am: "Why was Solomon the wisest man?"

Pupil: "Because he had so many wives to advise him."

School ma'am: "Well, I declare! That is not exactly the reason given in the book, but I award you, Johnny, our weekly prize for brilliant scholarship, and here is a nice large doughnut that will go well with your luncheon."—Everybody's Magazine.

Torrence in such a role. Every bit of the comedy and pathos that has made so many thousands of people laugh and cry over the book has been put on the screen with all the mastery of Herbert Brenon.

Better see this one!

PLAINTIFF GETS DIVORCE IN ACCIDENT SUIT

Damages to the amount of $8,000 were awarded to the plaintiff in the suit heard in the Superior court here last Friday of Forest M. Schrenk against San Mateo against William Hogan of Burlingame.

The suit grew out of injuries received when Schrenk's son, Charles Schrenk, was struck while on a bicycle by a car driven by Hogan, who it is said, was cutting the corner at the time.

The jury which listened to the case was composed of three men and nine women as follows:

John D. Daly, James H. Stubbs, Stella Vannier, Anna Choney, Teresa A. Moore, Howard P. Woodward, Roger H. Albrecht, Ethel D. McElwain, Clara A. Callaghan, Catherine Bam, Adelaide Butts and Ma L. Van Winkle.

Fifty minutes were consumed by the jury in arriving at a verdict.

THOUSANDS ATTEND SHRINE DEDICATION

A throng of shriners estimated at 4,000 gathered at the dedication of Islam Temple's 1640-acre tract of timber land in the Alpine district last Sunday. The tract, which contains one of the finest redwood groves in this district, was recently purchased by the Shriners for the purpose of a park and, camping ground for members of the temple.

The dedication last Sunday took place among the verdant foliage of redwoods, and the ceremony, simple and unostentatious, recalled from this fact the ancient forest rites of the druids. Potentate C. H. Worden officiated at the dedication, while the invocation and benediction were delivered by Rabbi Jacob Nieto.

A striking feature of the program was the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" by the crowd, accompanied by the Islam Temple band. As the chorus was sung a huge silk flag was gradually unfurled between two of the tallest trees, near the platform.

Addresses by Past Potentate Geo. Filmer and Reuben Hale, followed the singing and were in turn followed by the presentation of the pyramid, a stone monument bearing the emblem of the order, by Past Potentate John D. McElwain and its acceptance by Past Potentate Francis V. Keesling.

The dedication proper was delivered by Archibald J. Treat, assisted by Rabbi Jacob Nieto, Thomas L. Hill Julian D. Harris and chanters. A sextet directed by D. C. Rosebrook added to the enjoyment of the ceremony with many musical numbers. Tre arrangements for the whole affair were under the supervision of Gus Lachmich of San Francisco and to him is due much of the credit of the success of the affair.

LONDON'S BIZARRE TEA ROOMS

London has broken out with a rash of bizarre tea rooms since the war, especially in queer little alleys in the west end where they are tucked away and patronized largely by artists, students, actors, curiosity seekers and waiters. They have made of that section of London about the same "state of mind" that one finds in Greenwich Village, New York.

FAIR COMPETITION IS BUSINESS CLUB TOPIC

Fair competition was the topic of an address by Professor Sharp of Stanford University before the members of the Redwood City Kiwanis club last Tuesday at their noon time luncheon meeting. Rev. R. J. Currie, pastor of the Congregational church here, was the chairman of the meeting, and introduced the speaker.

Fair competition is the only stable way of conducting business, according to Dr. Sharp, "who condemned such forms of 'cut throat' competition as have occasionally come into prominence. 'Unfair competition' said the professor, is the only justification for socialism."

Speaking of the Kiwanis organization, Dr. Sharp quoted Professor Cyr of the University of Paris who stated that the predominating development of American democracy has been such organizations as the Kiwanis Club and the chambers of commerce. These institutions said Professor Cyr, enable democracy to express itself; a quality lacking in the democracy of Europe.

The Kiwanis Club has continued to attract larger and larger attendance at its luncheon meetings, and has continued to foster better understanding among the business men of Redwood City. The aims of Kiwanis are broad and are making themselves felt in our city.

Kiwanis dignifies personal effort. Any influence which serves to emphasize the worth of every type of legitimate business enterprise is of inestimable value. Under the inspiring influence of a higher motive every task is dignified no matter how seemingly unimportant. The inevitable result is enhanced success.

At a time when personal effort has such vital relation to national and international welfare the significance of this aspect of the effectiveness of the Kiwanis idea is most apparent.

The daily repetition of routine business activity often so paralyzes aggressiveness and original thought that business loses its romance. Only some new motive—some new and inspiring objective will serve to rekindle the flame that once threw a rosy glow over life.

Kiwanis furnishes a moral and spiritual dynamic which compels an awakened heart-interest in the most commonplace business activity as that activity is recognized as a means of serving society. Through the transforming influence of the Kiwanis idea, business becomes once more a romance and success is to be won and won as a means of enhancing one's service to his fellow-men.

Kiwanis fosters the development of friendships. The exceptional spirit of good fellowship which characterizes every Kiwanis Club is fertile soil in which to cultivate cordial acquaintanceship—that necessary first step toward friendship.

A man is measured by the friends he makes and keeps. Kiwanis friendships are never broken.

The atmosphere of a Kiwanis Club serves to dissipate that stiff-necked formality which so often pervades the relation of business men. The Kiwanis spirit of friendly cordiality breaks down distrust and misunderstanding and in its place establishes confidence.

If ever a man can be his best, and do his best, it is among his friends. Kiwanis is a peculiarly valuable asset to the man who has lived within his shell so long that even he himself has never realized he can be a "real fellow." The close association with aggressive personalities grips a man and many times makes him over.

STATE HIGHWAY SITUATION

Highway construction in California must come to a complete standstill unless the next legislature approves some adequate plan of highway finance. This fact is disclosed in a report on the present situation made by A. E. Loder, manager of the good roads bureau of the California State Automobile Association and member of the governor's committee of nine which is studying the highway problem.

Of the 6,480 miles included in the present highway system, 2,085 miles have been paved by the state, 364 miles by counties and 1,241 miles have been graded and gravelled by the state or forest road projects, leaving a total of 2,790 miles unpaved. The $73,000,000 provided in the three bond issues is exhausted, and the state's half of the gasoline tax can be used only for maintenance and reconstruction. Of the total of $17,093,307 of Federal Aid funds allotted to California to June 30, 1925, $10,121,000 has already been received on completed projects, and the balance of $6,972,307 will be received in small amounts over a period of several years as further projects are completed. Loder's report shows:

"That is the situation today," the report concludes. "An estimate prepared for the legislature a year and a half ago showed that $200,000,000 would be required to complete the system with 10,000 miles of paving and grading and graveling of the remainder. The estimate may be even greater now. The highway situation is critical, and the next legislature must be prevailed upon to adopt an equitable financial plan for its solution."

PAJO ALTO MAN PLEADS GUILTY TO SHOP LIFTING

Following a plea of guilty to shop lifting, Harry Carpinier, a language tutor of Palo Alto, was granted probation in the court of Justice of the Peace Ray Griffin this week. The charge against Carpinier came as the result of the theft of some articles from the counters of the Lock drug store here. At the trial Ernest Lock stated his willingness to drop the charge against the man as it appeared that he had been drinking at the time. Chief of Police Collins, however, refused to drop the charge, and the court granted probation to the Palo Alto man.

The Greatness and Dominance of Paramount Pictures Have Never Been Accidental

For twelve years, laden with history and achievement, Paramount has established the standard of screen entertainment for all the world. Tastes, styles, standards have changed. But in each year of twelve, the biggest pictures, the most popular and widely seen pictures have been those made by this dominating influence of the industry. Paramount Pictures that were the leaders of those past days are still great pictures measured by the standard of today.

GROWTH OF MOTION PICTURES DUE TO LEADERS OF INDUSTRY

The Motion Picture Industry as it stands today ranks well toward the top of the column of American business and industry. With the exception of the automobile there is perhaps no other phase of American business that has enjoyed more phenomenal growth than has the Motion Picture, and its success thus far, and its continued furthering has been made possible by those producers and distributors of Motion Pictures who possess necessary financial resources, and who inject into the making of a picture from a book or story, the intelligence and personnel brought about through research and actual experiences in picture making.

When the Motion Picture was first brought to the attention of the American people, it was crude, unfinished, and bore evidence of its infancy, and today the screen is presenting that which at one time was thought to be impossible in Motion Picture production.

From the two-reeler type of comedy and Western picture, the Motion Picture has graduated, and today productions of greater length and the standard of "THE COVERED WAGON" and "THE TEN COMMANDMENTS" are proving to be more popular than any attraction ever offered on the legitimate stage, and it can readily be seen that within a short while the legitimate stage will hold but very few outstanding attractions, and in the major part will have to give way to the onrush of screen presentations.

Adolph Zukor, president of the Famous Players Lasky Corporation, producers and distributors of Paramount pictures has been a pioneer in the industry. When Mr. Zukor first started in business he acquired an Amusement Palace known in this present day as the Penny Arcade. From this line of endeavor he branched out into the production of Paramount pictures of short length, and through confidence and faith alone in the future of the Motion Picture he conceived the idea and believed that pictures made from stories of merit and bigness of theme would warrant the attention of the amusement seeking public, as well as would evidence the Motion Picture industry's growth.

Consequently, Mr. Zukor is credited with the distinction of producing the first 3-reel photo-drama ever presented on the screen, this being, "QUEEN ELIZABETH," and featuring Sarah Bernhardt. From the production of "QUEEN ELIZABETH" the Motion Picture has progressed down through the ages of "THE MIRACLE MAN," "MALE AND FEMALE," "WHY CHANGE YOUR WIFE," and several other outstanding attractions of past days. Today, Paramount pictures of heavy dramatic theme, light comedy, and melodramatic attractions, are being given full sway in all leading theatres throughout the country, and due to the far-reaching possibilities of the screen's portrayal of a great story, Motion Picture is just beginning to captivate and to arrest the attention of the American people, as well as those in foreign countries.

The period of August 31st to September 6th, inclusive, this season, is dedicated nationally and is being observed as the 7th National Paramount Week, at which time all leading theatres throughout the entire United States and Canada will present Paramount pictures exclusively, and now that Paramount Week in Motion Picture and Theatrical circles has become a National institution, the Motion Picture industry, and the public alike, have come to recognize it as such, and in observance of the consequence of the Paramount organization in its association with the Motion Picture industry the event is looked upon annually as being a time when another milestone has been turned, evidencing the progress and expansion of the Motion Picture.

LIVING AS 6,000 YEARS AGO

For 3,000 years there has been no change in the life and custom of the fair-skinned Berber hill tribes of the Aures district, the most ancient of the existing races of North Africa, according to Capt. M. W. Hilton-Simpson, traveler and explorer, who has just returned to London from an expedition to the district. Accompanied by his wife and their small son and daughter, he gained admission to family circles of the natives that would have been closed to a lone male investigator. Captain Hilton-Simpson describes the native manufacture of pottery as extremely primitive; there has been no variation for the last 3,000 years. The cave dwellings inhabited today by many shawia families reveal the homes of their ancestors in paleolithic times. Some of the industries, he says, were probably introduced at the time of the Roman occupation 20 centuries ago, while others are reminiscent of ancient Egypt.

RUSSIAN FAIR IN FULL SWING

Nearly every country in the East and all parts of the soviet federal republic are represented in the great Nijni-Novgorod fair, which opened its 104th annual exhibit in the presence of 50,000 persons. Although neither the United States nor any European country, except Russia, has exhibits at the fair, as in previous years, there are large commercial and industrial displays from Persia, Afghanistan, Bokhara, Mongolia and Western China.

NEWS OF MENLO PARK

Talant Tubbs, the new San Francisco senator who was elected at last Tuesday's primary, spent a portion of his boyhood at Atherton, where his family resided for several years. Young Tubbs is known as the baby senator and is only 27 years old. He is the head of the Tubbs Cordage Company.

Miss Ethel O'Keefe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James T. O'Keefe, will leave next week for Sacramento to take over the Spanish department of the Sutter Junior College there. She taught Spanish in the Madrona high school last year. The young lady was this week offered a position in the Mission high school of San Francisco, but having accepted the position at the capital she was compelled to refuse the place which she preferred, it being nearer home.

Mrs. J. B. Kelley and her beautiful young daughter, Beth, have gone to Santa Cruz for a vacation of two weeks.

Miss Rose Broggi arrived home from a two months' trip to Honolulu last Tuesday. The home coming was a sad one, for during her absence her father passed away and she was not made aware of the fact until she stepped from the train Tuesday afternoon. She was met by her sister, Mrs. Harry Moray, who between sobs broke the pathetic tidings to the traveler. Miss Broggi was severely shocked but she bore up surprisingly well until she reached her home, where she fell into the arms of her mother, who was awaiting her. Mother and daughter wept silently in each other's embrace for several minutes. It is too bad that Miss Broggi's delightful trip should end so sadly, but fate decreed it.

Mrs. W. A. Doyle has sold her pretty new bungalow on Oak Drive avenue to Mrs. J. Patterson. The sum of $4,000 was paid for the property. Mrs. Doyle only completed the building a short time ago.

J. B. Leonard, a former resident of Menlo Park, has been appointed a teacher of engineering at the Santa Clara University. He will only spend a portion of his time at the university. Mr. Leonard is one of the ablest structural engineers in the state and for many years has been engaged in big construction work throughout the state.

This evening in Duane & Doyle hall a card party is to be given under the auspices of Menlo Park, N. D. G. W. Good prizes, cents and win one. Admission 25 cents. The party is to give its regular monthly old-fashioned and jazz dancing on Tuesday evening, September 2. The splendid music and the pretty girls that will be there are certain to draw a crowd.

The first meeting of the Las Lomas Parent-Teachers Association for the fall term will be held in the school house on Friday, September 5th.

The primary election last Tuesday passed off quietly, there being very little excitement at the polls. The vote was a record breaker, over eighty per cent of the electorate coming to the polls. Much interest was centered in the supervisorial contest. The incumbent, John MacBain, made a gallant fight receiving in the precincts in town more than double the votes of his two opponents which, of course, shows that the people have confidence in him and recognize the efficiency, honesty and ability. The large vote he received cannot be construed in any other way. The good road system he has maintained in the third township has won for him praise from tourists and others coming to this locality. Mr. MacBain had spirited opposition but it failed to be very serious when his record as supervisor for the past sixteen years was scanned. During the week Mr. MacBain received telegrams of congratulations from many portions of the state.

It was rumored yesterday that a $10,000 modern theatre was to be erected in town by a prominent San Francisco show man. The building is to be a two-story concrete structure.

The old-fashioned dance to be given by the Menlo Park Improvement Association in Duane & Doyle hall next Saturday evening, September 6, promises to be well attended. Between dances a short entertainment is to be given. If you desire to have an enjoyable time attend this affair.

Vacation days are over for this season, the boys and girls are returning to their studies and their elders to their work.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Merrill and children have returned to Menlo Park after a summer at Antelope. The oldest son, Charles, entered Sequoia Union High School Monday.

St. Joseph's parochial school will open for the fall term on next Tuesday, September 2. The enrollment is expected to reach the 200 mark.

A rummage and food sale under the auspices of the ladies of the Church of the Nativity began yesterday afternoon and will continue all today at the Murray building, opposite the depot and in the place formerly occupied by the postoffice. Home made pies and cakes and fancy articles are to be offered for sale. Housewives would do well to come early and secure dainties for the Sunday meal. Choice articles are to be offered at the rummage sale. The proceeds of the sale will be applied to the Church of the Nativity fund.

Miss Grace Hamilton and Miss Eleanor Weir were two choice artists whose entries won prizes at the Stockton show last week. A large number of peninsula people exhibited.

RUSSIAN WAR GOLD TALE IS REVEALED

Moscow Sent $331,000,000 to London Before Revolt.

New York.—The $8,000,000 of gold shipped from Paris to London during April was Russian gold, surrendered to Germany under the Brest-Litovsk treaty and later taken from Germany by the allies, according to information received by the department of foreign information of the Bankers Trust company. The $8,000,000 shipment to London, concerning which there had been considerable mystery, was understood to have been part of $62,000,000 which the allies obtained in pursuance of the Versailles treaty.

The gold shipment has brought to light a chapter of the world war some parts of which had never been published before and which concerned Russian gold, according to the trust company.

Before the war Russia had a gold reserve of 1,600,000,000 rubles, or roughly $800,000,000. The prospect of Russia in the war raised serious questions. With England forced to become the banker of the allied nations prior to America's entrance, it was regarded as essential that Russia ship gold to England in trade for large munitions credits.

The first shipment consisted of $30,000,000 gold sent direct from Russia to England under a battleship convoy, in October, 1914. This method, however, was so dangerous, regardless of the route, that later more roundabout routes were chosen, the most successful being from Petrograd to Vladivostok, thence to Japan, then to Vancouver, and then overland to Ottawa.

As the war progressed, Russia's finances began to break down, but the need of sending gold to England as a basis of credits multiplied many times. Public sentiment was so strong against sending its metal holdings abroad, however, that Russia consented to do so only when assured of absolute secrecy. Russia shipped needed balances in the autumn of 1915 and more in 1917. Of these shipments, the Bankers Trust company information service says:

"The shipments of gold were made in the following manner: For $195,000,000 to be delivered under the first arrangement, $49,000,000 was shipped in December, 1915; $49,000,000 in November, 1916; and $97,000,000 in November, 1916. The gold was sent partly to Japan and partly to Canada.

Sent on Jap Warships. "In accordance with the arrangement made between the British admiralty and the Japanese minister of marine, the gold was sent on Japanese warships and under Japanese escort. In like manner there was shipped from Moscow on the eve of the revolution, in February, 1917, in accordance with the second agreement, $97,000,000 in gold. In consequence of these shipments and that of 1914 the Russian gold stock decreased $331,000,000.

"It will be remembered that the first delivery in October, 1914, of $30,000,000 in gold was an outright purchase of gold by the British government against credits for $58,000,000. To offset the loan of the remaining $28,000,000, England delivered to Russia gold exchequer bonds payable in from three to five years in equal portions without interest.

"The total advances made by the British government to Russia amounted to $2,733,000,000, of which $496,000,000 were advanced during 1914-15, $1,400,000,000 in accordance with the agreement of September, 1915, and $777,000,000 in accordance with the agreement of October, 1916.

"Including the shipments of gold to England and the $62,000,000 referred to in the opening paragraph, it will be seen that in all an amount approximating $4,000,000,000 of gold, or about half of the holdings of the Russian bank of the state prior to the war, found their way abroad. What may have happened to the remainder of the prewar holdings of the bank of the state we do not know."

Why do we vote with this sign?

—because formerly men made a cross to pledge themselves by their Christian faith to the truth of the matter which they "signed." For similar reasons, we mark a cross on our ballots. The Puretest mark on is a pledge that this is the most refreshing rubdown science can produce. Puretest Rubbing Alcohol takes the soreness out of stiff joints and tired aching muscles. A cooling, soothing bath to allay fever. A splendid deodorant and a rose-fragrant balm after shaving.

One of 200 Puretest preparations for health and hygiene. Every item the best that skill and care can produce.
